ALL SAINTS SUNDAY
NOVEMBER 1, 2026

Almighty God, in holy baptism you have knit your chosen people together into one communion of saints in the body of Christ. As we remember our loved ones today, we give you thanks for the time, love and memories we shared with them. Give courage and faith to all who mourn. Help us to believe and trust in the forgiveness of sins and the resurrection to life everlasting as we look forward to the time when we will join all the Heavenly Host in Your Kingdom. Amen.

Lorna B. Rudisill
August 9, 1925 ~ November 6, 2025

Lorna Jeanne (Boland) Rudisill, aged 100, of Country Meadows, Hershey, passed away on November 6, 2025. She was the beloved daughter of the late Vincent O'Singer and Lillian Mae (Danner) Boland.

She is survived by her son, Vincent Rudisill, grandchildren Patrick Rudisill and wife Stephanie, Laura Scott and husband Andrew, Erin Luccio and husband Justin, and Alyssa Rudisill and husband Phil Jarowski, and four great grandchildren, Avery, Benjamin, Jacob, and Elleanore.
She was preceded in death by a son, Richard B. Rudisill.

Lorna was married for over 40 years to her late husband, Richard Allen Rudisill, who was the former Headmaster of Milton Hershey School (MHS) for nearly 25 years.

Lorna and "Dick" were graduates of John Harris High School in Harrisburg, PA where they met at a dance. She would go on to work closely with him in his endeavors at MHS. During this time, she attended and graduated from Hershey Community College in 1965, then went on to earn a Bachelors in Social Science Degree with high distinction from the Pennsylvania State University in 1968. She was in the first graduating class of the then "Capitol Campus" and was one of just twelve who traveled from there to University Park for their commencement ceremony.

Lorna was a member of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church in Hershey. She was a volunteer for and a director of the Hershey Food Bank for many years, a charter member and past president of the Hershey Branch of the American Association of University Women (AAUW), a member of MHS faculty wives, and a volunteer for a host of other local charities and church groups.

Her hobbies were many, including canning chairs, coin collecting, painting, collecting antiques, knitting, and genealogy. She was the most voracious of readers, with true expertise especially in the British monarchy and the Bible.

Lorna was well known among her wide circle for her sharp memory, wit, faith, and great storytelling ability. She fascinated her grandchildren and great-grandchildren with stories of the changing technologies of the 20th century, her experiences during World War II, and the people and events that influenced her during her years as the wife of the MHS headmaster. She also frequently imparted to her family the values of her Christian faith and took time to let them know that she prayed for them.

Mildred Jane Fair
January 24, 1925 ~ November 30, 2025

Mildred, known affectionately as Mick (she also answered to Millie or Mickie), lived a rich, vibrant century defined by deep faith, a steadfast spirit, and a wonderful joy for gathering with the people she loved. Born in Hershey to Ralph and Sara Nye, Mick was the youngest of her siblings Robert “Bob” and Blanche “Ben”. She spent her life cultivating warm connections. Over the years, she worked as a bookkeeper and insignia painter for her father's oil delivery and trucking business, served as an au pair for the Johnny & Alan David (children of Hershey Bears hockey player Virgil Johnson), handled sales at the Hershey Department Store, helped out at the Hershey Drug Store, and capstoned as a teller at The Hershey National Bank, where her calm composure during a holdup was remembered for years after.

Growing up, Mick and her husband, Dick, first met as neighboring children on what is now Washington Avenue in Hershey (Palmdale), eventually building their home on Caracas Avenue just down the hill from their families. United officially in 1948, son Jeffrey “Jeff” entered the picture in 1952. As a young family they enjoyed hosting warm gatherings with family and friends, taking surf fishing trips along the shores of Delaware during the spring and fall, and enjoyed playing cards with friends. As the years went on and into retirement, they traveled the country exploring numerous states and national parks. Mick and Dick celebrated their 70th anniversary in April 2018.

Throughout her life, Mick found joy in many hobbies: she loved playing the piano and church organ, enjoyed making cookies and cakes for family and friends, flying kites in the summer central Pennsylvania breeze, and embraced a deep love for animals of all kinds. She spent many peaceful hours bird-watching, enjoying nature, and feeding local birds and squirrels. She also enjoyed watching and attending local Hershey Bears hockey games and closely following the Phillies on TV. Crafts such as sewing, cross stitch, gardening, rock tumbling, and shell collecting were joyful pastimes in her life, alongside the constant fixture of daily crosswords and jigsaw puzzles. Her faith served as a steady, grounding anchor throughout her life, inspiring the kindness and compassion she showed to those around her.

In January 2025, Mick celebrated her 100th birthday surrounded by a small gathering of family and friends, complete with rich gelato (which Mick simply called “ice cream”), piano music, and plenty of colorful balloon animals for fun entertainment. She treasured her friends and family. Mick is lovingly remembered by her son, Jeff, her grandchildren and great-grandchildren, as well as family and friends scattered around central Pennsylvania.
